HALO 10-Week Intensive Outpatient Program

Making Sense of Your Worth

Who We Are

The HALO Tulsa program is a 10-week intensive outpatient intervention designed to meet the unique and diverse needs of children in foster care, children who have been adopted, and/or children who have been exposed to relational trauma. HALO Tulsa relies heavily on the Trust Based Relational Intervention model that was created by Dr. Karyn Purvis and Dr. David Cross at the now, Karyn Purvis Institute of Child Development.

At HALO Tulsa we couldn't do what we do without the support of our community. There are various ways to donate!

Sign up to be a Buddy

The role of the buddy is to provide one-on-one positive nurturing interactions with a foster/adopted child during the organized HALO night events. Training is provided!

Set up a donation box

This can be done at your work, church, or school to collect items needed to teach children skills to heal from trauma.

Make a Financial Donation to HALO

Every dollar helps. It costs $1,300 to put a family through the program.
