Empowering Families, Strengthening Futures

Dear Kinship Family,

On behalf of Oklahoma Human Services (OKDHS), we want to thank you for partnering with us to care for a child who is currently placed in the custody of the state of Oklahoma. We value you as part of the team and want to ensure you are supported during this process.

Oklahoma Human Services wants to partner with you as a kin caregiver. We believe when children cannot remain safely at home, staying with kin is their best option because it reduces the trauma of separation and keeps them connected to their family and culture. During this process, we will work together to educate and support one another, as well as the child(ren) in your care, while also assessing your home as a kinship resource. OKDHS places children with kin caregivers as quickly as possible and works together with you to complete the required tasks rather than waiting to place the child until all the tasks are completed. Once approved as a kinship resource home, you will have access to various resources and a monthly financial stipend to ensure the best possible care for the child(ren) placed with you.

This process may sometimes feel overwhelming with many tasks and people involved but know that we are here to guide and support you every step of the way. The tasks listed below may not happen in the order they are listed but that is okay! Our goal is to have each task, except for training, completed within 30 days of placing a child in your home.

- Background Checks
- Meeting with a Resource Specialist – your assigned worker who will complete required paperwork
- Meeting with a Permanency Planning Specialist – assigned worker for the child(ren) in placement
- Fingerprints
- 12 hours of training (completed within 120 days of placement)
- Kinship Resource Family Assessment – completed by a partnering agency

For a visual guide of the kinship assessment process, please refer to the Roadmap to Kinship Care. If you have any questions, please reach out to your assigned Resource Specialist. Please check the attached Emergency Contact Guide for specialists' contact information.

Thank you again and we look forward to working with you.

Family Time: A Guide for Foster and Adoptive Parents

When a child is removed from their parent's care and placed in foster care, it is critical that parent-child visits, also known as family time, occur. Family time promotes timely reunification, and supports the parent-child relationship necessary for successful reunification. Family time also helps in the decision-making process to establish the best permanency plan for each child. Foster parents are critical in maintaining connections between children and their family through family time. This is part of foster parents' important partnership with the biological child's parents and the children they care for and support.

No matter why children have been removed from their parent's care, both parents and children are likely to experience strong emotional reactions about the separation. While children may feel happy and excited about family time with their parents, children may also experience difficult emotions before, during or after family time. They may appear sad, disappointed, angry, withdrawn or anxious, or act like they don't care. It is not unusual to observe children crying excessively, whining, regressing to infantile behavior, having nightmares or sleep disturbances, wetting the bed, becoming aggressive, being unable to listen and/or complaining of physical pain before and/or after family time. Youth may also express difficult feelings before, during and after family time by appearing moody or avoidant, behaving disrespectfully or defiantly or engaging in risky or "rule-breaking" behaviors. These behaviors are often a result of trauma and although not ideal, can be an expression of how the youth is coping with the stress of loss and transition from family.

As a trusted caregiver, you are likely to encounter a child's difficult behaviors before or after family time visits. You may also need to help manage a child's strong emotions, as well as your own feelings, if a family time visit does not go well. Let's talk further about these behaviors and what the child might be experiencing.

Family
TIME

Preparing for Success

It is important to do what you can to prepare for successful family time with their parents. Proactively preparing for family time can make a big impact. Here are some suggestions:

Assist the child in your care to be emotionally prepared for family time.

- Be intentional and provide additional emotional support to the child prior to family time.
- Openly talk and actively listen to the child's feelings about seeing their parents and/or siblings.
- Be mindful when talking about the child's parents and remain positive.
- Be open and honest about which known family members will and will not be attending family time; share with the child who else may be present during family time (i.e. you, caseworker, therapist, etc.)
- If the child is in mental health services, consider scheduling counseling appointments around family time to support the child's well-being.
- Reassure the child that you will welcome them when they return from family time and plan to spend a few extra minutes to help the child transition.
- Encourage the child to ask any questions regarding what family time will be like.

Before Family Time Visits

Some feelings a child may potentially experience prior to family time include:

- Anxiety due to a disruption in the child's daily routine.
- Fear of an unfamiliar person transporting the child.
- Having unrealistic expectations or anxiety about how family time will go.
- Having an overwhelming desire to see their parents and/or siblings.
- Normal feelings of loss and separation that are increased by seeing their parent.
- Worry that being removed was their fault or being confused about why they cannot go home.
- Fear that going to a visit means they will not return to the foster/adoptive home.
- Reliving abuse and neglect trauma in anticipation of family time.
- Fear of separation from the foster/adoptive parent(s).
- Sensing the parent or foster/adoptive parent's anxiety or anger regarding family time.
- Feeling defensive if it seems their parents or foster/adoptive parents are being criticized.

Family TIME

Support family time with the child in your care in mind.

- Request a Family Time Plan if one has not already been provided.
- Work directly with the child's parents to plan and schedule visits, when possible.
- Advocate for family time to be scheduled consistently and with the child's schedule and routine in mind (i.e., not late at night, not during school hours or nap-time, etc.)
- Volunteer to provide transportation to family time, when possible, to provide reassurance and calming.
- Help the child plan a fun activity they might like to do with their parents during family time.
- Encourage family time to occur in a home-like setting, such as the parents' home or your home, instead of an agency office.
- Keep a visible calendar in your home with family time dates so the child can look at it at any time for appropriate expectations about upcoming visits.

Help the child in your care prepare on the day of family time.

- Create your own rituals prior to family time to comfort the child, such as allowing the child to pick their own clothes or fixing their hair in a special way.
- Help the child decide on a calming and comforting object (e.g., special book, stuffed animal, blanket) to take with them.
- Ensure the child has eaten and send a healthy snack.
- Encourage the child to draw a picture or create a small gift to give their parents.
- Provide the parents with recent pictures of the child to include them and support your connection with them.
- Review the family time schedule, including times and transportation plans, for the day in an age-appropriate way to reduce any anxiety.

Supporting Children after Family Time

It is important to take action after the child in your care has a family time visit to support their transition and feelings. Here are some suggestions:

Assist the child in your care with a smooth transition back into their normal routine.

- Volunteer to provide transportation from family time, when possible. If that is not possible, suggest that the child be returned to the foster home or a private location for a safe space to process their feelings (not at school or child care).
- Welcome the child warmly upon return and reassure them that you are happy to see them.
- Create your own rituals after family time to re-integrate the child into their routine and smooth the transition (i.e. have a snack, read a book, work a puzzle).
- Give the child a task to assist with upon returning to your home so they can contribute and feel like they belong.
- Update the calendar in your home with the next planned family time date and verbalize this to the child for reassurance.
- Ask the child what activities they would like to do at the next family time visit to begin planning.

After Family Time Visits

Some feelings a child may potentially experience after family time include:

- Child's expectation of seeing their family was not met.
- Lack of adequate attention given to the child due to chaos created by multiple siblings or family members present, or the parent's own mental health or substance abuse problems.
- Child's parents were unaffectionate, unwelcoming or displayed behaviors that the child perceived as rejection.
- Reliving abuse, neglect or trauma during family time.
- Reliving the trauma of removal from their parent or fear of not seeing their parent again.
- Sensing the parent or foster/adoptive parent's anxiety, anger or distress during family time.
- Confusion about the relationship between the child's parents and foster parents, such as undermining each other or having negative interactions.
- Feeling a need to reject the foster parents after family time in loyalty to their parents.
- Fear of an unfamiliar person transporting the child from family time.
- Normal feelings of sadness and loss when family time visits end.

Encourage the child in your care to openly share their feelings if and when they are ready.

- Be intentional by providing affection, quality time and reassurance to the child; this is important after each family time visit but is critical when it does not go well.
- Ask the child how they felt family time went. If they are not ready to talk, give them space to process and decompress.
- Let the child talk without interruption about their feelings regarding family time and seeing their parents
- Explain your understanding of how difficult it is for the child to visit their family and then leave again.
- Encourage the child to ask any questions regarding family time and answer transparently when possible.
- If the child voices concerns, reassure the child and discuss with the Child Welfare (CW) specialist.
- Share with the CW specialist if the child is consistently upset or has severe behaviors regarding family time. Discuss what has or has not worked to help de-escalate their behavior and if therapeutic family time could benefit the child and parent. Professional mental health services may be needed for the child if they are not already in place.

Family
TIME

Family TIME

Handle canceled family time visits delicately.

If family time is canceled or the family does not come, it may be hard for the child in your care and they will need additional support.

Here are some suggestions:

- Objectively share with the child that family time is canceled or the parents cannot come when you become aware without criticizing or blaming anyone involved.
- Immediately reassure the child that the visit was not canceled because of them, or anything they did or did not do.
- Offer the child an opportunity to make a phone or video call to their parent, when appropriate; the child may experience anxiety until making sure the parent is okay.
- Spend quality time with the child and do an activity together to foster connectedness.
- Give the child grace and patience if they are distressed or upset; they are possibly disappointed, sad or angry.
- Remind the child they are loved.

OKLAHOMA
Human Services

Discipline Methods for Foster Children

What is discipline?

Safe practices or methods of teaching and enforcing acceptable patterns of behavior. This method does not allow corporal punishment.

How can I effectively discipline?

Positive Behavior Management

- Rewards can include treats, toys and symbols of recognition (i.e. stickers, money).
- Privileges allow the child to experience more freedom and increased responsibility.
- Praise is communicated by a verbal or nonverbal expression of child's achievements or good qualities.

Self-Control

- Planning and preparation prevents confrontation, acting out and negative behaviors by establishing expectations for the child and creating a structured, safe environment.

Direct Intervention

- Techniques appropriate for responding to lack of self-control include: 1) rules, 2) time out, 3) restricted privileges, 4) grounding, 5) logical consequences, and 6) natural consequences.

What can I not do?

- Children can never be physically disciplined.
- Permission cannot be given to school personnel for corporal punishment.
- Some unacceptable behavior techniques include:
a) deprivation of food or sleep, b) deprivation of family visits, c) cursing or other verbal abuse, d) derogatory comments about the child or biological family, e) holding child in an unnatural position, f) washing mouth out with soap, and g) forced physical exertion.

Who can I call when discipline methods are not working?

- Contact the child welfare worker to establish alternative discipline methods.

Investigations in Foster Homes: A
Guide for Foster
Parents to Understand Their Rights and Responsibilities

OKLAHOMA
Human Services

You Are Not Alone!

As a foster parent, you may experience a report of abuse or neglect regarding the children placed in your home. This can happen for numerous reasons. It is important to remember children in out-of-home care have experienced trauma and are particularly vulnerable. If you find yourself experiencing an investigation, remember:

- YOU ARE NOT ALONE!
- Just because an allegation has been made, Oklahoma Human Services DOES NOT assume that abuse/neglect occurred; a thorough assessment of child safety and investigation is completed before any decision is made about the allegations.
- This may be a difficult time for you and may cause disruption within your family.
- You may experience feelings of fear, embarrassment, shock or anger.
- You will have questions about the process. Ask them.
- Investigations seek to reveal facts and specifics around the circumstances of an incident. During this process, the incident is examined objectively, facts are documented and information is used to make a finding.
- Communication with your worker regarding the children placed in your home is critical.

Foster families are at higher risk for allegations because:

1. Foster families are more closely observed than families in the general public.
2. The addition of foster children may alter your current family dynamics.
3. Children who have experienced trauma may display behaviors as a result of the trauma experienced. These behaviors are a form of communication that can be supported with different parenting tools provided by community resources.
4. Children may display behaviors that require additional supports while placed in a foster home.
5. Children may develop a level of safety with you and disclose information that may require reporting.
6. Some children experience difficulty trusting adults due to their background and may experience challenges adjusting to a family setting.

Mandatory reporting laws

Children in state custody are more vulnerable and Oklahoma Human Services is required to protect them from subsequent abuse or neglect while they are in custody.

State law requires all people who believe that a child has been abused or neglected to make a report to the Oklahoma Human Services Statewide Abuse and Neglect Hotline at 1-800-522-3511. This law requires the agency to investigate the reports of child abuse or neglect for the primary purpose of protecting children.

Reporting and Assignment:

When a call is received at the Oklahoma Human Services Abuse and Neglect Hotline, the information is documented in a Referral Information Report. The report is carefully evaluated to determine if the referral meets criteria to be accepted for investigation. All decision-making is fully documented by the child welfare (CW) specialist. All accepted abuse/neglect referrals involving children in foster homes will be investigated. Screened out referrals are referred to your foster care specialist.

1. Reports can be screened-out and referred to CW permanency planning, foster care and adoption staff to address concerns regarding policy or rules violations.
2. An accepted report is fully investigated and a report documenting the interviews and findings is submitted to the appropriate district attorney. The findings of the investigation can be substantiated, unsubstantiated or ruled out. A finding of substantiated means that an incident in the home did occur that rose to the level of abuse and/or neglect.
3. When Oklahoma Human Services receives a report that a child has an unexplained injury in a foster home, the child's CW specialist immediately interviews and observes the child, caregiver and witnesses. If it is determined the injury was the result of an accident, the CW specialist documents the information and the report is screened out.

What information will be collected from me in an investigation?

It is a CW specialist's responsibility to find out all she or he can about the situation. Law enforcement may conduct a joint investigation with the CW specialist.

The CW specialist collects the following types of information through private interviews with the persons in the home:

1. A description of the alleged incident that led to the report;
2. Identification of all residents/caregivers in the home;
3. A complete description of any injuries to the child, which may include asking a physician to help determine the severity of the injuries;
4. A description of the child and other children in the household;
5. A description of the home environment;
6. A description of the family dynamics social and environment; and
7. A description of the family's strengths and needs.

Some of the information-gathering, especially the descriptions, can be very in-depth. Be prepared for a lot of questions! Detailed information is collected to understand how well the foster parent can protect the child(ren) in their care. This information is used to assist in determining if abuse or neglect occurred and may include:

1. Disciplinary techniques and strategies;
2. Ability and understanding of the supervision needs of the child;
3. Interest in protecting child from danger;
4. Physical and behavioral health;
5. Criminal history;
6. Motivation for caring for children;
7. Knowledge of social, emotional and behavioral development and trauma history;
8. Intellectual functioning;
9. Recognition of strengths and needs; and
10. Financial status and work history.

What are my rights?

1. You have the right to be informed of the allegation made against you. Oklahoma Human Services is not authorized to disclose who made the allegation.
2. You have the right to provide your information about the incident being investigated.
3. You have a right to have an attorney represent you at your cost.
4. You DO NOT have the right to deny the CW specialist access to the child in state custody.
5. The agency will determine if the child in foster care should remain in your home during the investigation or if there is a need to move the child. Should there be a need to place the child(ren) outside of the home, you will have the ability to have input on an alternative caregiver the child may already know. You can also provide names of other adults who are aware of the situation.
6. Any allegation that is substantiated automatically receives a program review by the Child Protective Services (CPS) Programs Unit.
7. Oklahoma law requires foster parents who are found to have abused or neglected a child in their care to be subject to placement on the Restricted Registry maintained by Oklahoma Human Services Child Care Services (CCS).

How to prepare for the placement of children into your home

Prior to placement of a child in state custody into your home:

1. Get as much information about the child as possible before you accept a placement. Ask about the child's trauma history and potential triggers.
2. Understand how trauma can impact brain development.
3. Understand normal child development.
4. Don't be afraid to say no to a placement if you feel you may not be able to meet the child's needs.
5. Communicate with the child's CW specialist and your resource specialist often and honestly. If your specialist knows there are problems, the specialist can assist you before things get out of control.
6. Seek outside resources and assistance immediately if behaviors or issues arise that are becoming out of control.
7. Attend trainings available to you.
8. Keep logs/notebooks on each child to document visitation with family members, medical appointments, school progress/problems, medical needs, behavioral patterns or changes and efforts to teach acceptable behavior.
9. Document any changes in behavior in children including type, severity and duration of these changes, especially after parental visitation. Include any action taken to deal with inappropriate behavior. Also document any unusual behavior the child has regarding social workers, police or medical personnel.
10. Report injuries to the head, face, neck, stomach, and back promptly, but no more than 24 hours from when the injury occurred.

11. Always document any serious conflicts with parents, children, social workers, counselors, teachers, etc.
12. Always inform your resource specialist if you intend to have new adults around the children placed in your home on a consistent basis or have anyone moving into your home or onto your property.

If you accept a child who is considered high-risk and/or who has had numerous placements:

1. Talk with the CW specialist about the child's trauma.
2. Allow the child to discuss his or her history of abuse/ neglect at the child's pace and when the child wants to discuss it.
3. Tell the child that you plan to protect him or her and yourself.
4. Enlist the help of a competent professional who is experienced in working with survivors of trauma, such as a therapist or other professional. You and the child will need ongoing therapeutic support from a person who knows you well. Your CW specialist can assist you in initiating therapy.
5. Discuss with your CW specialist the level of supervision the child needs and make a plan for supervision and safety issues, especially for younger children. Children who are in state custody often have fewer boundaries than other children.
6. Closely supervise children at all times.
7. Be aware of places in your home where children might hide and monitor them frequently.
8. Leave nap room doors open and periodically check on children during these times.

9. Conduct frequent safety checks and make sure all hazardous materials are securely put away. Safety guidelines cannot be compromised.
10. Never use, or threaten to use, corporal punishment as a means of discipline. This form of discipline is not authorized for foster parents and is a policy violation, but can also initiate an investigation when used on children 5 and under.
11. Carefully screen relatives and friends who come into your home. Make sure they understand licensing regulations, house rules and any specific restrictions about individual children because of previous abuse, court orders, etc.
12. Do not be alone with a child who is sexually reactive, acts out sexually, or has provocative behavior. Advise adults and older children in the household to have another adult nearby or in the same room for the protection of both the adult and the child.
13. Children who have previously experienced sexual victimization are more vulnerable to repeat victimization. Always take new allegations seriously and make a report, even if a child has a history of making false allegations. It is the duty of the foster parent, working together with professionals, to protect the child and give the child functional boundaries and self-protective strategies.

BASIC CAR SEAT SAFETY

Be sure to buckle up the right way on every ride!

KIDS
WORLDWIDE™

All children must use a car seat, booster seat or seat belt.

- My child always rides in a back seat and never in front of an airbag.
- Everyone in my car buckles up on every ride using the right car seat, booster seat or seat belt for each person's age and size.
- My child's car seat has all of its parts, labels and instructions and has never been in a crash.
- I follow the instructions for my car and my car seat so that my child is buckled in right and tight.
- My child's car seat has never been in a crash.
- I never leave my child alone in a car.

Use our online Ultimate Car Seat Guide for information on all your car seat needs. www.safekids.org/ultimate-car-seat-guide

Babies under 2 use rear-facing car seats

- My child always rides in a back seat and never in front of an air bag.
- My child always rides in a car seat made for his or her size and age.
- My child sits facing the back of the car in his or her car seat.
- The harness straps are snug on my child, and I can't pinch the buckled strap at the shoulder.
- My child's car seat is buckled tightly in the car and doesn't move more than one inch when I pull it where the seatbelt is buckled/attached.
- My child uses a bigger rear-facing car seat until he or she outgrows the harness. Many harnesses go to 35, 40 or 45 pounds.
- I never leave my child alone in a car.

Toddlers and big kids use forward-facing car seats with a top tether

If my child is over age 2 AND has outgrown the weight or height limits for the rear-facing seat:

- My child always rides in a back seat.
- My child always rides in a car seat made for his or her size and age.
- The harness straps are snug on my child, and I can't pinch the buckled strap at the shoulder.
- My child's car seat is buckled tightly in the car and doesn't move more than one inch when I pull it at the belt path. I use the top tether.
- My child uses this car seat until he or she outgrows the harness. Many harnesses go to 50 pounds or more.

Older, bigger kids use booster seats with lap and shoulder seat belts

If my child has outgrown the weight or height limit of the forward-facing car seat:

- My child always rides in a back seat.
- My child always rides on a booster seat using a lap and shoulder seat belt.
- The lap belt sits low on his or her hips, not the stomach.
- The shoulder belt is on my child's shoulder – not on the neck, under the arm or behind the back.
- The seat belt is snug, flat and comfortable on my child.
- My child may be between 8-12 years of age before the seat belt fits without a booster.

Kids ready for seat belts

If my child has outgrown the booster seat:

- My child always rides in a back seat until age 13.
- My child always uses a lap and shoulder seat belt.
- The lap belt sits low on my child's hips, not the stomach.
- The shoulder belt is on my child's shoulder – not on the neck, under the arm or behind the back.
- My child's back is firmly against the vehicle seat back, his or her knees bend at the front edge of the vehicle seat, and he or she can sit this way for the whole ride.
- The seat belt is snug, flat and comfortable on my child. If the seat belt does not fit right, my child must use a booster seat.

KNOW THE LAW. PROTECT YOUR PRECIOUS CARGO.

1 OUT OF 2 KIDS

ARE NOT AS SECURE AS THEY SHOULD BE because their car seats are not being used correctly.

Properly installed car seats and booster seats reduce the chance of death in a motor vehicle crash by 71%
for infants under 1 year

54% and 54% for toddlers
ages 1 - 4.

KNOW THE LIMITS

ALWAYS follow the weight and height limits of the car seat.

AGE IS IMPORTANT

The younger children are, the more fragile they are, and the more protection they need.

EASY FOR YOU TO USE

Try out the features of the car seat. Choose a car seat that will be easy for you to use correctly every time.

Your family's WIC benefits will be credited to your eWIC account. You will use your Oklahoma eWIC Card to purchase your WIC benefits at stores displaying the Oklahoma eWIC Card Accepted Here sign. Having eWIC does not change the amount of your WIC foods; it just makes getting your WIC items easier.

Most stores process eWIC in all checkout lanes. Look for Oklahoma eWIC Card Accepted Here signs in stores with select WIC lanes. Check with your store to better understand their process. The following steps describe the general process for completing an eWIC transaction and may differ slightly from store to store.

1. With your eWIC card, current benefit balance and Oklahoma Unified WIC Approved Food Card, select the food items you need.
2. When you are done shopping, choose a checkout lane that accepts WIC.
3. Some stores require you to separate WIC items from other purchases. Ask if this is needed.
4. Tell the cashier that you are using an Oklahoma eWIC Card.
5. The cashier scans items to confirm they are WIC approved and can be purchased that day.
6. You or the cashier swipes the eWIC card.
7. Enter your four digit PIN.
8. The cashier gives you a receipt. Make sure you leave with your card and receipt.

What information do I need to access my eWIC account?

The name, date of birth, and zip code of the primary cardholder are needed to access account information.

Do my WIC benefits expire?

Yes, WIC benefits are used for the period of time they were issued for. For example, if the start date is 11-20 and the end date is 12-19, the benefits must be used within those two dates. Any unused benefits will expire.

Do I have to redeem all the WIC benefits at once?

No, WIC benefits may be redeemed as needed as long as benefits are available.

Is my eWIC card reusable?

Yes, each time you are issued benefits they will be loaded to your eWIC account. Keep your card.

You can get a benefit balance by checking your last store receipt, by calling Customer Service, by accessing the Cardholder Website at www.ebt.acs-inc.com, or by signing up for your balance to be texted.

What is a PIN?

PIN stands for Personal Identification Number. It is a four digit secret code that allows you to use your eWIC card. You will select your PIN when you activate your eWIC card.

How do I get my PIN?

You will select your four digit PIN when you first get your eWIC card. To activate your card and select a PIN, call Customer Service at 1-866-562-2702.

You will need to know the 16 digit card number, the zip code, and date of birth of the primary cardholder.

How do I choose my PIN?

Choose a PIN that is easy for you to remember, but hard for someone else to guess.

How do I keep my PIN safe?

If someone knows your PIN, they can use your card to get your benefits and those benefits will not be replaced. When entering your PIN, be sure no one else can see the number you are entering. Don't write your PIN on your eWIC card or eWIC booklet, and do not keep it written down in your wallet or purse.

What if I forget my PIN or need to reset it?

If you forget your PIN, call Customer Service to choose a new PIN. You will need to know the primary cardholder's name, zip code and date of birth.

What do I do if someone finds out my PIN?

Change the PIN.

- DO NOT bend, fold or twist it, punch holes, or use it to scrape windshields or open door locks.
- DO NOT store it near magnets or electrical equipment like cell phones.
- DO NOT leave it in the sun or other hot places like the dashboard of your car.

What if the store's eWIC equipment is not working?

If the store's equipment is not working, you can go to another store that accepts the eWIC card.

What if one of my food items is not accepted?

If there was an item you expected to be covered by your WIC benefits but was not, it could be for the following reasons:

- The item may not be included in your list of foods issued.
- You may have already used the issued amount of that item.
- The item may not be an approved food on the Oklahoma Unified WIC Food Card.
- The product's barcode may have changed or become unrecognized by the program's system. If you suspect this to be the case, notify Vendor Service at 1-888-655-2942.

What if my eWIC card won't work or I get an error message?

- Card Not Found – contact your clinic
- Invalid Pin – you may have entered the wrong PIN, try again if you know the correct number
- Benefits Expired – you no longer have benefits

What if I question something that happens to my benefits?

If you have a question about your benefits, contact your clinic.

What if I want to buy non WIC items while I'm shopping?

Procedures may vary by store, but generally you will want to use your eWIC card first to pay for WIC foods. Then you can use other forms of payment such as SNAP benefits, gift cards, debit card, cash, or checks to pay for other items.

What if I move or change address?

Contact your clinic if you move or change address to update the primary cardholder's zip code. This will be used as an identification when making changes on your account.

What if I need someone else to do my WIC shopping for me?

Be careful if you give someone your card and PIN as they could redeem all of your WIC benefits. These benefits will NOT be replaced.

What happens if I need to change my WIC benefits including infant formula?

Talk to clinic staff about changing your WIC benefits. Having eWIC does not change this process.

What information appears on a receipt?

A receipt shows the foods and quantities of WIC foods purchased, remaining WIC benefits, and when those benefits expire. Keep your receipt so you know what WIC foods remain on your account.

What is the Customer Service telephone number?

1-866-562-2702

This number is also located on the back of your Oklahoma eWIC Card. You can call this number, free of charge, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Welcome to Oklahoma eWIC

This guide will help you keep your Native American or Alaskan Indian foster child connected to their heritage. The Indian Child Welfare Act of 1978, which addressed out-of-home placements and tribal affiliation, requires foster parents to keep a child connected to their tribe and culture. When a child stays connected to their tribe and culture, they gain awareness of their identity and develop better self-esteem. Maintaining your respect for the Native American child, family and tribe leads to more successful outcomes for the child.

Ask the OKDHS child welfare (CW) specialist the following:

1. Ask which tribe the child belongs to.
2. Ask who the Indian Child Welfare (ICW) worker (also known as tribal worker) is and for their contact information. If the CW specialist does not know, contact an OKDHS Tribal Coordinator to assist you.
3. Ask for a copy of the child's tribal membership card and Certificate of Indian Blood (CDIB) card.
4. If the child does not have a tribal membership card or CDIB card, ask the CW specialist or ICW worker to help you obtain the cards.
5. If the child/children are eligible to be members of more than one tribe, it is up to the child's parent/custodian to decide membership. If the parents are not involved, refer to the tribes involved in the case.
6. Each tribe offers different resources for tribal children, such as cultural camps during the summer or online language classes. Please refer to their website for more information.
7. Completing the Circle is an annual event planned by tribes and OKDHS that aims to connect children to their tribe, culture and heritage. Visit the event's website for more information: <https://events.oucpm.org/ctc/>

Adoption of an Indian Child:

1. There must be a Good Cause Hearing for or all placements-kinship, tribal and non-tribal and adoption.
2. The tribe must agree to the adoption and sign documents stating such.
3. If the child is eligible to be a member of two or three or however many tribes, then please ensure this is in the adoption papers. This is important because as the child becomes an adult they may identify with one of the other and choose to enroll or unenroll in such tribe.

DHS Pub. No. 22-08 Issued 03/2022
This publication is authorized by Oklahoma Department of Human Services Director Justin Brown and printed by DHS in accordance with state and federal regulations at a cost of $XX.XX for XX copies. Copies have been deposited with the Publications Clearinghouse of the Oklahoma Department of Libraries. Members of the public may obtain copies by calling 1-877-283-4113 (toll free) or by downloading a copy at www.okdhs.org/library.

Navigating the OKDHS and tribal world can be challenging. Here are a few tips to help you along the way.
Thank you for fostering our Native American and Alaskan Indian children!

Ask an ICW worker (also known as a tribal worker):

1. Ask what programs or resources are available to the child and how to access them. Some tribes have cultural packets they can send to you.
2. Some tribes will require the child to live in their tribal jurisdiction to access programs or resources.
3. Ask about customs or ceremonies you should be aware of to ensure the child stays connected to their culture.
4. If an ICW worker is not assigned to the case, locate the tribal website and go to the Culture tab on the site. There should be a contact number or email to ask the above questions. Some tribes will have Elders who can advise you.
5. If you are unable to locate tribal information on their website, contact an OKDHS Tribal Coordinator to assist you.

If you live in Tulsa County:

1. The case will be heard in the new Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA) Court. The ICWA Court is set to hear all Native American child welfare cases on one specific day and by a specific judge. Tulsa County also has OKDHS ICWA units that are assigned cases. An ICWA unit is simply a unit that works more closely with tribes.

2. If you have additional concerns or questions, ask your OKDHS Specialist or an OKDHS Tribal Coordinator.
3. You can find contact information at: <https://officemgmtentserv.sharepoint.com/sites/CWS/SitePages/Tribal>.

Things to know:

Every Tribe is different and unique. There are 38 Federally Recognized Tribes in Oklahoma. The majority of these tribes only have one or two ICW workers on staff to serve the entire United States.

Tribes are Sovereign Nations and can choose to become involved or not involved at any time during the life of the case. Think of a Tribe as if it is a Country with their own policies and laws.

If a child does not live in their Tribal jurisdiction to access programs or resources, but lives in another Tribe's jurisdiction, you can contact that tribe to see if they serve Native American children who are not members of their tribe. Not all tribes do this, so please contact the Tribe in which you live in their jurisdiction.

IMPORTANT Hair Care: In several tribes, a person's hair can represent a close cultural identity. This close identity to culture promotes self-esteem, a sense of belonging and self-respect. As part of practicing self-respect, Native children are taught to take good care of their hair and to let it grow. DO NOT cut a child's hair until it has been approved by the child's parents or custodians. Contact a Tribal Coordinator if you have any questions or concerns.

Foster Care placement of an Indian child:

Each tribe may have their own placement preferences which must be followed for compliance with ICWA. The general rules apply (if no tribal preferences are available).

1. Placement with relative/kinship
2. Placement in a tribally approved foster home
3. Placement in a tribal foster home approved by a non-tribal agency
4. Placement in a tribal facility (More on back)

About FCAO

Since 1996, FCAO has provided free education and training, led advocacy efforts for positive change in the child welfare system, and built a caring community of mentors and fellow foster and adoptive parents for thousands of Oklahoma families.

Retention Programs and Services

Foster Parent Peer Mentor Program

FCAO has led the charge by starting the first foster mentor program to serve Oklahoma's families. Each mentor is matched with a foster parent for nine months. Mentors provide education, encouragement, and one-on-one support on a daily basis as they help guide foster parents through the barriers inherent in the child welfare system.

Foster Parent Advocacy

Through excellent relationships with OKDHS and current legislators, FCAO is actively involved in policy initiatives and legislative pursuits at the state level.

Events & Support Groups

FCAO offers opportunities for families to enhance their knowledge and skills with free trainings and specialized events held throughout the year. Additionally, free online resources and support groups are available across the state, including a virtual option.

Giveaways

Every two weeks, FCAO gives $150 to a foster parent couple or a single parent to use toward much needed pampering, rest, or unexpected expenses for their children.

Mentee

"Without my mentor, this last year probably would have been the end of my fostering journey. But since I was supported, loved, and heard through it all, I am able to keep pushing even after the last month. Just having someone who is there always and 100% understands how you feel is completely life changing. I think every new foster parent should know about and be part of the mentor/mentee program!"

Mentor

"I was able to go to court with a mentee last Thursday, and I'm so glad I was there to explain what was happening! It was overwhelming in the most fantastic way."

DHS Recruiter

"[The foster mother] could not be more pleased with how the process has gone. She said that [her mentor] has been extremely helpful and supportive and has been available to answer all her questions. She would recommend the Mentor Program to ALL new foster parents!"

In 2007, the Oklahoma Department of Human Services and the University of Oklahoma's Center for Public Management partnered to create the Foster Care and Adoption Support Center with the primary goal of recruitment and retention of Oklahoma's foster and adoptive families through outstanding customer support.

BENEFIT CARD PROGRAM

The Foster Parent Exclusive Benefits Program allows business partners to offer services, discounts, and other benefits to Oklahoma's foster families.

It also makes it easier for foster families to provide food, fun, and educational activities for the kids in their care.

We have a variety of benefits and discounts to help foster families. These benefits include:

- Discounted tickets to certain theme parks
- Percentage off clothing and accessories
- Discounted membership fees
- Photography
- Construction
- And more!

Youth Crisis Mobile Response

What is Youth Crisis Mobile Response?

Youth Crisis Mobile Response is a free, statewide mobile response program that connects children and families to supports in time of crisis. When a child displays a behavioral or mental health episode within the home, community, or school, a call to the Youth Crisis Mobile Response line by the child's parent or caregiver can initiate needed services for the child's immediate needs. As a resource parent, it is important for you to understand that you do not have to navigate these situations alone.

By calling 1-833-885-CARE (2273), a parent or caregiver is connected to a trained call specialist who will listen to determine immediate needs, assist to calm the situation, and assess the next steps. If your family or child needs more help, the call specialist will connect you to a mental health professional in the county where the child resides, who will respond within one to 24 hours. If a mental health professional is not available in the county where the child resides, the call specialist may contact law enforcement to assist or refer you to the closest emergency room.

After the crisis is de-escalated, the child can be linked to Wraparound services if they are not already receiving supportive mental health services from another agency. Wraparound services are provided through Systems of Care (SOC) and utilize a family-centered team to help you develop a plan on how best to understand the child's needs and strengths to problem-solve as a family and community. These services and supports can help stabilize the child and maintain the child's placement in your home.

Is Youth Crisis Mobile Response only for children in foster care?

No, this service is available to any child or youth in crisis who is 24 years of age and younger. This includes foster, adopted, or biological children, in addition to any child you are trying to support through a crisis. As a resource family, Child Welfare values the health and well-being of all members of your family.

How do I determine if a situation would benefit from contacting the Youth Crisis Mobile Response line?

If the child has an immediate behavioral or mental health need such as risk of harm to self or others, this is a situation you might address by contacting the Youth Mobile Crisis Response line. Examples include, but are not limited to:

- Becoming more violent towards others
- Starting fires, destroying property, or harming animals
- Threatening a person with a weapon
- Cutting or hurting themselves
- Expressing a desire to kill a person or group of people
- Planning or taking action to kill themselves

If the child has a non-immediate behavioral or mental health need, it should be addressed with the child’s mental health provider if the child currently receives these services. If the child does not have an established mental health provider, contact the child’s worker or the child’s primary care provider for a referral to mental health services. Behaviors or needs that are typically non-immediate include, but are not limited to:

Younger Children	Older Youth
Frequent tantrums or are intensely irritable much of the time	Smoke, drink, use drugs, or engage in risky or destructive behavior alone or with friends
Complain about frequent stomachaches or headaches with no known medical cause	Periods of highly elevated energy and activity, and require much less sleep than usual
In constant motion and cannot sit quietly	Fear gaining weight, or diet or exercise excessively
Not interested in playing with other children or have difficulty making friends	Lost interest in things they used to enjoy
Sleep too much or too little, have frequent nightmares, or seem sleepy during the day	Spending more and more time alone, and avoid social activities with friends and family
Struggle academically or have experienced a recent decline in grades	Sleep too much or too little, or seem sleepy throughout the day

Please make contact with the child’s worker and/or supervisor if the Youth Crisis Mobile Response is contacted for a child in OKDHS custody. In the event the situation continues to escalate, call 911 or go to your local emergency room.

As a valued Oklahoma resource parent, you care for children who have experienced varying degrees of trauma. There is a team of Child Welfare and mental health professionals in your corner to help you navigate this journey. Help during a crisis is just a phone call away.

Enhanced Foster Care (EFC)

OKLAHOMA Human Services

Link to EFC Tool Kit

Oklahoma Human Services (OKDHS) strives to provide children with opportunities to gain HOPE and healing.

At no fault of their own, some children develop complex behavioral, medical, developmental and mental health needs that lessen their likelihood for success in traditional foster care. In these cases, Enhanced Foster Care (EFC) can provide children in OKDHS or tribal custody with an elevated level of care that identifies their individual needs and uses a trauma informed approach to facilitate their healing.

EFC services are delivered in the context of two family-based care settings:

- Enhanced Foster Care Services: These refer to child-specific services provided to kinship or traditional homes for children already placed in those settings, or about to be placed in one of these identified settings, including as a first placement.
- Enhanced Foster Care Homes: These refer to pre-selected traditional foster homes, in which additional training is provided to the family to support the placement of children with no identified family-based placement transitioning from congregate care, acute or residential

True North goals are a set of priorities developed by OKDHS to guide the work of the agency in order to focus resources and improve collaboration and communication with stakeholders. Each of OKDHS's divisions has approximately three to five focused True North goals in addition to eight agency-wide True North goals.

True North Child Welfare Services Goal 2: If children enter foster care, understand and meet their specific needs. This includes their need for safety, connections with family, community and culture, and addressing health, behavioral health, developmental, and educational needs.

treatment. Additionally, children who meet the EFC service criteria and who are placed in shelter care¹ or at risk of placement in shelter care can be placed in an EFC home.

EFC Service Elements

Enhanced Foster Care is individualized to the strengths and needs of the child and resource family. The standard services and supports listed below are provided to all children (and their families) receiving EFC.

- Individualized Treatment Plan
- Regular Team Meetings about Treatment
- Monthly In-Home Quality Worker Visits
- Weekly Individual Therapy for the child
- Family Therapy
- 24-Hour Crisis Intervention, including a Crisis Plan
- Supplemental Foster Care Rate (Level 5 DOC)
- Child and Adolescent Needs and Strengths Assessment (CANS)
- Evidence-Based Treatment Models, when appropriate
- EFC Service and Support Plan
- Additional Training for Families Caring for Children with Complex Needs²

² These families will receive specific modules from Pressley Ridge, an evidence-based curriculum for foster parents.

Additional services and supports, listed below, are also available as needed.

- Systems of Care - Service Coordination and Wraparound Treatment
- Specialized Services (Developmental Disabilities Services, Medical, Occupational, etc.)
- EFC Resource Parent Support Group

Child Eligibility Criteria

A child must meet at least one of the eligibility criteria below to receive EFC services; the resource parent(s) caring for the child must also agree to actively participate in the child's treatment needs and planning. These criteria are more inclusive but informed by the programmatic criteria commonly used to determine eligibility for Therapeutic Foster Care.

- The Child and Adolescent Needs and Strengths (CANS) assessment indicates the child would benefit from the EFC level of care.
- The child experiences the onset of frequent placement moves from family-based settings due to the provider requesting change of placement or that the provider cannot meet the child's behavioral health needs.
- The child has a minimum of two elevated Child Behavioral Health Screeners (CBHS).
- The child has a provisional or primary diagnosis from the most recent edition of "The Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders" with a detailed description of the symptoms supporting the diagnosis.

The Co-Neutrals' initial round of EFC case reviews showed foster parents reporting that their treatment plans and wrap-around services provided them with coping skills and therapeutic responses to help the children in their care work through heightened moments of emotional and mental stress and behavioral agitation.

(From the latest Pinnacle Plan¹ commentary)

- The child's conditions are directly attributed to a primary medical diagnosis of a severe behavioral and emotional health need and may also be attributed to a secondary medical diagnosis of a physical, developmental, intellectual, or social disorder that is supported alongside the mental health needs.
- The child's conditions are directly attributed to a mental illness or serious emotional disturbance, a medical issue, or a developmental or intellectual delay.
- There is evidence that the child's presenting problems require full integration of 24-hour crisis response, behavior management or intensive clinical interventions from professional staff to prevent the child from having to move from a family-based placement or to transition to a family-based setting from a higher level of care.
- The child has other specific needs or factors that pertain to the child's permanency, safety, and well-being, as approved by the Enhanced Foster Care Program Administrator.

EFC Referral Process

Enhanced Foster Care is available to any child in custody meeting criteria, including children entering custody in their first placement. Information obtained during the referral process is used to determine eligibility and to support individualized service planning for the child. There are two referral pathways for children to be considered for EFC:

- An Enhanced Foster Care Referral (Form 04EF003E) is completed for children currently or to be placed in an identified traditional or kinship home, and who are identified for EFC services and supports only; or
- The Child Placement Interview is completed for children in need of an identified traditional home placement and meet the criteria for EFC services and support.

¹ The Oklahoma Department of Human Services (OKDHS) settled a class action, civil rights lawsuit against its foster care system. As part of this settlement OKDHS developed a plan, called the Oklahoma Pinnacle Plan, which guides the agency as it works to improve the way it cares for children in foster care. "Co-Neutrals" refers to an independent panel of experts that provide commentary and assessment on OKDHS' continuing efforts on a semiannual basis.

YOUTH ROUNDTABLES

In 2020, the Children's Bureau held 12 roundtable discussions with youth from across the country who are, or were previously, in foster care. Common themes that arose during these discussions focused on mental health, overall well-being, and social isolation brought on by the current health crisis. Youth are experiencing increased feelings of loneliness, disconnection, and suicidal ideation. This was expressed more during the roundtable with tribal youth.

Additional challenges youth shared during the roundtables:

- Concerns about aging out of foster care during the pandemic without a place to go or a means to support themselves
- Job loss and/or difficulty finding meaningful employment
- Safe and secure housing
- Worries about schools and universities shifting into a virtual learning environment
- Access to healthcare
- Reduced access to reliable transportation
- Reunification and adoption finalization concerns

State child welfare leaders are encouraged to reach out to the local tribes and tribal consortia to better support the well-being of tribal youth.

Working with Two-Spirit and Native LGBTQ Youth

Resources for Tribal Child Welfare, April 2020

Two-Spirit is a modern overarching term intended to convey a broad array of indigenous gender diverse traditions. Expressions of Two-Spirit identities vary tremendously from Tribe to Tribe and within each Two-Spirit person. While the gender presentation, sexuality, social and ceremonial roles are diverse across Indian Country, a shared understanding of Two-Spirits is that it is a socially embedded, spiritually grounded identity; there are duties and responsibilities to community that accompany being a Two-Spirit person.

Let's Talk About CHILD CARE

for Foster Parents

As a working foster parent, you are responsible for securing child care services for your foster child. You will need to identify, research and visit child care programs before you are approved as a foster parent. Your foster care specialist can help answer questions and help you choose what type of child care may be right for you.

Helpful Resources:

1. Child Care Subsidy

Oklahoma Human Services may help pay child care costs for foster parents who are working or attending a formal education or training program. To receive child care subsidy payments, you must choose a licensed child care provider that accepts child care subsidy from Oklahoma Human Services. Subsidy payments are based on a child care provider's quality rating (1 to 5 Stars).

Find Licensed Child Care Providers

- Child Care Locator on the Oklahoma Human Services website (<https://childcarefind.okdhs.org>)
- Statewide Child Care Referral Center (English language): 1-800-438-0008
- Statewide Child Care Referral Center (Spanish language): 405-525-8783
- Note: Additional child care facility fees may apply.

You may also choose an in-home child care provider who is related to the foster child. The provider must be at least 18 years old and cannot live in the child's household. (340:40-13-2 Approving In-home Child Care).

2. Head Start

This federally funded program is available at no cost for foster children from birth to age five. Head Start provides a learning environment for children that includes health care, meals and playtime. To find Head Start programs in your area, please visit <https://eclkc.ohs.acf.hhs.gov/center-locator>. Type in the city name and zip code. A map will appear on your screen showing Head Start programs in that area. Click on the program to find more detailed information including hours of operation. You can also visit the Oklahoma Association of Community Action Agencies website at <https://okcaa.org/head-start-agencies> and click on a map to choose Head Start programs in each county.

3. Oklahoma Foster Care Voucher Program

The Oklahoma Foster Care Voucher Program is available to kinship and traditional foster families approved through Oklahoma Human Services or a tribe. Vouchers are used to reimburse an individual identified by the foster parent who provides care for the foster child in order to give the foster parents a break (or respite) from caregiving. Vouchers cannot be used by foster parents to place foster children with another foster family. To learn more about the voucher program, contact your foster care specialist. Families approved through Resource Family Partnership agencies, should contact their specific agency regarding respite options.

IMPORTANT NOTE: Child care may not be immediately available for your foster child so please have a temporary plan in place until all required paperwork, approvals and authorizations are complete.

Have “backup” babysitters who can step in at moment’s notice. You will need a variety of friends, family and neighbors to help support you in different situations. What conversations have you had with your identified “backups?” Are they able to step in at a moment’s notice?

Common scenarios when child care may be needed. Think about who can provide last-minute child care for your foster child and keep adding names to your list.

Situations needing Child Care:

- Child gets sick at school and needs to be picked up immediately, but you can’t leave work.
- Child was involved in a fight at school and is suspended for three days.
- A foster child was placed in your home the previous night, and you must be at work at 8 a.m.
- Child needs to be picked up from child care by 6 p.m. but you have to work late.
- Child is in the hospital and you are with them. You also foster the child’s sibling. Who will care for the sibling while you are at the hospital?
- You have a family emergency and must travel out of state for three days.
- Do you or your spouse work non-traditional hours? Who cares for your foster child during those hours?
- Your foster child is out of school for holiday breaks, but you have to go to work.

Additionally, when a child is placed in the home, the family works with a DHS permanency planning specialist who is assigned to the child.

Therapeutic Foster Care

Therapeutic Foster Care (TFC) is a residential behavioral management service provided in a foster home setting. TFC is designed to serve children ages four to 18 with special psychological, social, behavioral and emotional needs who can accept and respond to the close relationships within a family setting, but whose special needs require more intensive or therapeutic services than are found in traditional foster care. Therapeutic Foster Care is provided by private agency partners who contract directly with DHS. Through the TFC agency, a child and the foster family will receive supportive services from professionals such as clinical therapists and family support specialists. The assigned TFC agency collaborates with the assigned DHS Child Welfare Specialist regarding all services provided to the child and family.

Note: Private agencies may have their own worker roles that differ from DHS. Check with each agency for more information about their worker roles.
